An aromatic hydrogen is a hydrogen atom directly bonded to an aromatic ring.

eg: The hydrogen atoms shown in red in the following molecules are aromatic hydrogens.

!Molecule 1

!Molecule 2

Contributors

- Gamini Gunawardena from the OChemPal site (Utah Valley University)