A branched alkane is an alkane whose molecule contains more than one carbon chain.

eg. 1:

![Diagram of branched alkane example 1]

eg. 2:

![Diagram of branched alkane example 2]

see also straight-chain alkane

Contributors

- Gamini Gunawardena from the OChemPal site (Utah Valley University)