If, in the Lewis structure of a diene, the two double bonds are separated by one single bond, the diene is called a conjugated diene.

eg:

The double bonds in a conjugated diene are said to be conjugated.

see also \textit{s-cis} conformation, \textit{s-trans} conformation

\textbf{Contributors}

- Gamini Gunawardena from the OChemPal site (Utah Valley University)