A diterpene is a terpene whose molecule has twenty carbon atoms.

eg:

Cembrene
(a constituent of pine oil)

Retinol or Vitamin A (strictly, terpenoid; present in animals)

see also monoterpen, sesquiterpene, triterpene

Contributors

- Gamini Gunawardena from the OChemPal site (Utah Valley University)