An essential fatty acid is a fatty acid a given organism needs but cannot synthesize. There are two essential fatty acids in humans.

see also nonessential fatty acid

Contributors

- Gamini Gunawardena from the OChemPal site (Utah Valley University)