The McLafferty rearrangement is a characteristic fragmentation of the molecular ion of a carbonyl compound containing at least one gamma hydrogen (see alpha hydrogen), e.g.,

![Diagram of McLafferty rearrangement]

Contributors

- Gamini Gunawardena from the OChemPal site (Utah Valley University)