A monoterpene is a terpene whose molecule has ten carbon atoms.

eg:

- limonene (a constituent of lemon oil and orange oil)
- thujene (a constituent of oil of many plants)

see also sesquiterpene, diterpene, triterpene

Contributors

- Gamini Gunawardena from the OChemPal site (Utah Valley University)