An oxoacid is a compound whose molecule contains at least one hydroxy group bonded to an atom that in turn is doubly bonded to at least one oxygen atom. eg:

- Acetic acid
- Sulphuric acid
- Sulfonic acid
- Phosphoric acid
- Carbonic acid
- Nitric acid
- Phosphoric acid
- Pyrophosphoric acid

- see also hydroxoacid, carboxylic acid, sulfonic acid

Contributors

- Gamini Gunawardena from the OChemPal site (Utah Valley University)