A pentose is a monosaccharide whose molecule contains five carbon atoms.

eg:

![Structures of D-ribose and D-ribulose]

see also triose, tetrose, hexose

Contributors

- Gamini Gunawardena from the OChemPal site (Utah Valley University)